

The Benefits Of Telemedicine

As taken from Field Guide to Telehealth and Telemedicine for Nurse Practitioners and Other Healthcare Providers by Craig Sorkin DNP, RN, ANP-C, FNP-C

1

Improves Communications

Improves communications not only between patients and providers but also among the providers and the interdisciplinary care team.

3

Improves Comfort

The ability to reach the masses and assess them in their comfort zone.

Improves Timeline & Cost

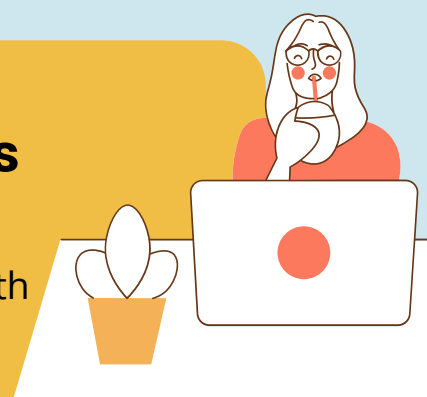

It's much easier to schedule appointments based on the patients timeline. Plus if the patient doesn't have insurance, this care usually occurs at a lower price.

4

5

Better Digital Platforms

Many associations have developed resources to support your digital health platform.

Reference: Field Guide To Telehealth and Telemedicine

"This book will hopefully answer questions on these topics and aims to enlighten emerging providers, administrators, and payors to the benefits of telemedicine and telehealth. With knowledge comes power and the ability to effect change. The future of telemedicine is in the hands of those who are rendering services."